FRISCO PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED

Coaches Ditched, Track Torn Up, but Fortunately No One Seriously Injured.

The south-bound Frisco passenger No. 507 was wrecked about a mile and one-half or two miles out of Francis yesterday afternoon. The tender, mail and baggage cars were derailed, a good deal of track torn up, but no one was seriously injured in the shake up, though the fireman was bruised a little, not enough however, to disable him.

A freight went from here to the scene of the wreck and the passengers, the mail and part of the baggage were jammed on it and transferred this far where they were met by the

The real occasion of the wreck has not been ascertained thus far. None seem to know any more how it happened than the passengers themselves.

BOYS' CORN CLUB EXHIBIT

As we have had occasion to remark before, one of the most important things ever done in any state has been the encouragement given the cause of agriculture by the Haskell administration. What we consider about the most important phase of this work is the organization of the boys' corn clubs in every quarter of Oklahoma, and the incentive thus given the boys to study agriculture from a scientific and practical standpoint.

The first exhibit of the products of the boys' efforts was held Saturday afternoon at Ada in the M. & P. bank. The following boys had specimens of corn there as fine as can be found anywhere: Joes Rives, Ahlosio; J. W. Cooper, Jones Chapel; Arthur Mullins, Pickett; Sam Dew, Pecan Grove; Dorsey Neel, Maxwell; Billie Bevers, Maxwell; Grant Isaacs, Maxwell; Owen Stout, Ahlosio; Earl McCoy, Ahlosio; Holley Comstock, Ahlosio; Edward McCoy, Ahlosio; Walter Comstock, Ahlosio; Jno. Shockley, Ahlosio; Vernon Grigsby, Ahlosio.

Among the varieties of corn on exhibit we noticed samples of the Golden Eagle, Mammoth White and Kellogg's Pride.

Each of the five banks made a liberal contribution to the prize fund, and the following business firms subscribed: Guest Bros. $1.50 shirt; Surprise Store $2.00 merchandise; Grand Leader $3.50 pair of shoes; S. M. Shaw, book; Cox Lee Mer. Co., hat; Gwin & Mays Co. $1.00 baseball bat; L. J. Little $1.00 merchandise; L. T. Walters, picture; G. M. Ramsey Drug Co., kodak; J. M. Stanfield, $1.00 merchandise; I. Harris, shirt; Evans & Coffman, $1.50 bridle; S. E. Chapman $1.00 cash; M. Walsh $1.00 merchandise. Ada Hardware Co., knife.

The judges of the exhibit were J. F. Price, J. F. Jackson and H. C. Evans, they divided the corn into three groups, and thereby made it possible for each boy to get a prize of some kind. Each boy in the first group was given $5.00, partly in money and partly in other things that had been offered by the business men, those in the second $3.00 each, and those of the third $2.00.

The following boys were placed in the first group for yellow corn: Owen Stout, Earl McCoy, Arthur Mullins.

Second group, yellow: Holley Comstock, Edward McCoy, Joe Rives and James Shockley.

Third group: Sam Dew, Dorsey Neel, Grant Isaacs, J. W. Cooper, Walter Comstock, Vernon Grigsby.

First group, white: J. W. Cooper, Billie Bevers, Arthur Mullins.

Second, white: Sam Dew.

Miss Bumgarner, whose home is a few miles out, has been about as busy as the boys this year, but not knowing that the contest was to be decided Saturday, did not have any exhibit. However, Prof. Pierce has decided that she shall not be left out, but will be given recognition yet.

Prof. Pierce is well pleased with this first effort, and expects 300 Pontotoc county boys to be in the one for next year, and will also arrange for a contest among the girls in domestic science.

On behalf of himself and the boys he desires us to thank the business men of Ada for their liberality in giving to the premium fund.

CRUCE FIRES OPENING GUN

DEMOCRATIC STANDARD BEARER ADDRESSES 5,000 PEOPLE AT FAIRFAX.

RECORD MADE BY DEMOCRATS

What the Party Has Done in Laying Foundation for Government of Oklahoma.

Fairfax, Okla., Sept. 17.—Five thousand persons from the Osage country and contiguous territory listened to the opening address of the democratic state campaign delivered here today by Lee Cruce of Ardmore, nominee for Governor. A majority of the audience were democrats, and, inspired by the music of several bands and enthused by the varied demonstrations of the occasion, they made the event perhaps the most spectacular and interesting of its kind in Oklahoma in recent years.

Mr. Cruce spoke in a tabernacle brought here from Kansas City for the occasion. His voice was clear and strong and the audience listened with manifest interest during the two hours of delivery. His stand on some of the most important party issues was liberally applauded as each point was scored. This expression in particular evoked tremendous applause.

"Any victory that is purchased by the sacrifice of the reputation of a single honest man, be he ever so humble and obscure, is too dearly won, and the effort of the republican leaders and their candidates for governor to win the election by breaking down the good name and honor of honest officials because of the fraud of new corrupt officials will meet with well-deserved condemnation at the polls in November. If it is true as charged that election crooks can only be punished by fine and imprisonment in the county jail, I am then in favor of amending the law so as to make such conduct a penitentiary offense."

Mr. Cruce was introduced by J. J. Quarrels, who followed Benjamin Harrison of Hughes county, democratic nominee for secretary of state. Mr. Cruce complimented the committee of arrangements, said he was pleased to open his campaign in such a progressive community and then entered upon his prepared address.

Five hundred persons and several bands awaited, the coming of the Cruce train at 10 o'clock. He was taken in charge by the reception committee, headed by Warren D. Ozman, and given an automobile ride of an hour over the town. At noon the party repaired to the barbecue. A band concert followed the barbecue and the speaking began at 2 o'clock.

"Old Nationalism."

The committee received a message from J. E. Palmer of Pawhuska, a prominent Indian politician, who was too ill to attend the celebration. "Let us insist upon an old Nationalism," the message read in part, "and that is that every department of government should be subordinated to the people thereof, and that the government wherein the greatest amount of powers are retained by the people."

The keynote speech by Mr. Cruce was a defense of laws enacted by democratic legislatures and their enforcement by democratic officials. In politics, the speaker said, he was an optimist and believed that the majority of those composing the voting strength of all political parties are honest men. All that is needed to insure good government and faithful service, he said, is to arouse the good men in the various parties to a sense of their public duties. There was an absence of reference in the speech to several subjects which have been issues in the state campaign thus far, but it is understood these will be treated of in later political addresses. The speaker made it plain that he was under the control of no man or set of men and that he would not permit anyone to dictate what he should do or should not do. He said in part:

Government, is divided into two classes—the good and the bad. If the good men dominate in numbers and influence the affairs of government, we have good laws and good government, and the converse is true if the bad element prevails. In Oklahoma we will have just as good government as we deserve. We will deserve just as good government as we demand—no better and no worse. As long as the honest voters of the state perform their political obligations and register their votes on election day our state government is secure. One real patriot who goes to the polls and casts an honest ballot in favor of honest government, is worth more to the state and community than a hundred self-styled patriots who stay at home and spend their time crying out against bad laws and corrupt officials.

Plea of "More Business."

"We hear much in this commercial age about 'more business' in politics. My friends, be not too credulous about the plea, but search and find out what kind of business is proposed to be injected into the body politic. If it is honest business that is proposed, we can not have too much of it. If it is dishonest business that asks to rule, we can not have too little of it. It is often the case that this slogan of more business and less politics is the battle cry of the trusts and corrupt commercial interests trying to invade the province of the government in order that they may the more safely exploit the people. The contest in which we are engaged will result in committing the administration of the governmental affairs of the state for the next four years either to the democratic or republican party, for every voter will concede that one of these will triumph this fall. It is for the people to decide which of the two they prefer. In making this choice the honest voter will make his own investigation and choose the one which he honestly believes will best subserve the public good."

Mr. Cruce made references to the republican state platform adopted by the Guthrie convention, which serves, he says, as the "guide for that party this fall." Speaking of the opening address of J. W. McNeal, republican nominee for governor, Mr. Cruce says that no where does he (Cruce) find any reference whatever to the platform upon which the republican nominee stands. The speaker continuing, said: "He (McNeal) does not give it even a perfunctory indorsement, and yet he has not the courage to openly repudiate it. He is placed in this dilemma: If he indorses it he will drive from him the self-respecting, fair-minded, free-thinking republicans who refuse to accept the dictation of the cheap, self-imposed leaders, and if he repudiates it, he will drive from him the gang of Federal officials in this state, and alienate the influence of the authorities at Washington. 'Choose ye this day whom ye shall serve.' I here warn him that he must declare himself. The people are intelligent and will demand an open and honest statement. Before he answers, let me make this prophecy—he will take the side of the federal office-holders, and ignore the

ADA NORMAL BEGINS WORK

LARGE ENROLLMENT WITH WORK OF MATRICULATING NOT YET FINISHED.

The News man made a trip to the normal this morning and watched with lively interest the work of enrolling and classifying the students. Just how many were enrolled we are unable to say for it is no small piece of work to matriculate so many.

No regular work was done today, the teachers simply arranging their work and assigning lessons. Tomorrow, however, the work of the year will open in dead earnest, and from the strength of the faculty and appearance of the student body, there can be no question about this being a most successful year with the Ada school.

If one has not gone through the building, it will pay him to do so. It is simply superb in design and arrangement, and we may well feel proud of it.

A formal public opening will be held in a few days, and next Sunday afternoon a concert of sacred music will be given by the school, and a few addresses suitable to the time and place will be made by citizens of the town.

Back From Western Texas.

Yesterday afternoon four dust-covered travelers blew in from the western part of Texas. In fact, the returning travelers proved to be A. L. Nettles, Walter Clark, Y. N. Finley and R. T. Atkins. They, together with several other Ada parties invested in the new town of Plateau in El Paso county. They report everything in that country dry and burnt up, but a little oil excitement is going out there and they expect some results from that.

GIBSON GETS A SIX MONTHS' SENTENCE

A. H. Gibson was given six months in the county jail on last Saturday for shooting C. C. Mays on the 25th of last October. Gibson was charged with an assault with intent to kill, but claimed the shooting was in self defense.

The trial consumed the entire day Saturday. The jury was out something like an hour before deciding six months in jail would be adequate punishment for the defendant.

Assistant County Attorney Dean assisted by Judge J. D. Blanton of Pauls Valley who was employed by Mays, conducted the prosecution. Stone and Maxey represented the defendant.

A. L. Beck and Geo. Kice left yesterday afternoon on a business trip to Kansas City.

NO TIME FOR DIVISION.

Fully alive to the responsibility that rests upon this paper both as a medium of news and as an exponent of the best interests of the city, we feel it our duty to offer a few observations on the recent events affecting the welfare of the normal that we think might be pondered over with profit to all parties concerned. In the first place we stand fast footed on the proposition that the vote of confidence in President Briles as expressed in the resolutions adopted by a unanimous vote at the mass meeting Friday evening

INDIAN GETS ON WARPATH

George Wade an Indian living at Francis was jailed here yesterday by Deputy Bob Duncan. It is alleged that Wade got "full of mule" took the warpath, went home and pelted his house and wife with rocks. After indulging in this sport a few minutes he left the house only to return shortly. This time he was armed with an axe and gave chase to his wife who quite naturally put all the distance possible between herself and her drunken lord.

As Others See It.

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 17.
My Dear Prof. Briles.
I saw in the paper yesterday an article no doubt you already have seen and know all about. I attach no importance to it of course, as neither do any of your friends here, but I thought I may be of some service to you in setting matters straight in the minds of people who do not know you, so I write to know if I may serve you in any way. The real facts in the case where one is right is always a death blow to error in the mind of an honest doubter.

Do you know that I think while I am trying to live above being the evil designer or dark suspicioner, yet I am persuaded some politician has had his evil practices exposed by you or his unholy will subverted and wishing to find some means of retaliation, has seized upon the petulancy of some disgruntled teacher by which to accomplish his unrighteous ends. If I have interpreted correctly I can think of nothing viler in spirit, and such an act should be roundly condemned.

You will be the judge as to whether you should take notice of the affair in the public prints, but whether you do or not, you may command my humble services to the limit of my ability. I sincerely trust it is of such small importance as to require no worry or uneasiness on your part.
I am not trying to butt in—I want only to be of service to you if I may be.

Remember me kindly to Mrs. Briles.
We are all well and hearty. School begins Monday the 26th.

Your Faithful Friend,
CHAS. B. SMITH.

"Swamp" Campbell a Married Man.

From the following clipping from the Oklahoman of Sunday, it will be observed that our old time friend, W. H. L. Campbell is one of those lucky fellows we have heard about.
Mr. Campbell did much for Ada during the early days of its existence, and numbers his friends by the hundreds. We still count him a citizen of Ada, and as such we extend him our hand in hearty congratulations and with the wish that his pathway may be strewn with roses. Says the Oklahoman:

A wedding ceremony was performed by Judge Jesse Dunn of the supreme court, in the apartments of Governor C. N. Haskell, Lee-Huckins hotel, at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night.

The parties married were Mrs. Willie Sherwood of Elk City and W. H. L.
Campbell, clerk of the supreme court.

The wedding was simple and only a few of the intimate friends, W. M.
Bonner and Mrs. L. Y. Bonner of Ardmore, John R. Williams and wife of Hobart, William Gilbert and wife of Oklahoma City, John Doolin of Alva, W. A. Medlock and wife of Hobart, and John Wallace, assistant clerk of the supreme court, were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will remain in Oklahoma City Sunday, then they will journey to Guthrie, where they will make their home. The bride has lived for several years in Elk City, coming from Texas.

The groom, better known as "Swamp" Campbell, has been prominent in Oklahoma politics for years.
He was master in chancery, under Judge C. B. Kilgore in the southern part of the state for several years, and prior to coming to Oklahoma, was county attorney of Rockwall county, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell met in Western Texas, fifteen years ago.
They were then sweethearts, but circumstances caused their separation.
They moved to Oklahoma, later renewed their old love and were married Saturday night.

NO CHANGE IN STRIKE SITUATION

The strike situation remains unchanged. About fifteen men have been at work today on the curbing and will likely continue tomorrow.
Mr. Dudley, one of the contractors' leading men, stated that he expected everything to be running by Wednesday at latest, and perhaps by tomorrow.

The Baptist church of Stonewall has called Rev. O. E. Fowler of North Ada to the pastorate of the church for the ensuing year. This is a good selection and we feel sure that the church will prosper under his leadership.

New Furniture Store.

A. Goldwasser, yate of Fair Bluff, N. C., is having the building adjoining the Texas Department store on the east renovated and about October 1, will open up a fine stock of furniture. We extend him a hearty welcome.

Reading for Girls.

"One of the most difficult duties we have in the library is to get a good line of books for young girls from 14 to 18 years of age," said Miss S. M.
Collmann, who presides over the department of books in the Cincinnati public library for young people.
"Girls are very peculiar about books anyway, especially at that age. The fact that certain books have to be taken in the literary course in the schools makes them hate those books and any book that savors in the least of those compulsory subjects is tabood forever after, at least until the mind of the girl becomes set and she becomes imbued with a desire to read the best of books. If a book does not look 'nice' they will not take the trouble to look into it. If it is too small or too large or has the least dull look about it that fact alone is fatal to the reputation of the book unless some girl happens to read it and recommends it heartily to a friend and that friend reads it. Then the book has a chance, but the chance is slow coming."

Our 1,500 Miles of Levees.

Few people are aware that the dyke system of the United States is far larger and protects a far greater area than the dyke system of Holland.
There are now 1,486 miles of levees along the banks of the Mississippi river, but even this stupendous amount of earth does not insure absolute protection, as was shown by the Holly Bush crevasse in 1903 and other disasters.

Not until 64 miles of new levees are added, representing 55,000 cubic yards of earth (including the raising of the old levees in places) will the system be complete and perfectly safe from a flood equal to the greatest on record, that of 1882. Then the system will contain 280,000,000 cubic yards, nearly three times that of the excavation in the Culebra cut of the Panama canal, where conditions permit the use of machinery instead of negro and mule.
—World's Work.

To Study Iceland Legends.

Iceland is perhaps the only country in the world with a strongly developed literary history which remains in the same unchanged state of nature today as it did 1,000 years ago, when the characters of the great sagas roamed the rocky slopes of the picturesque island, or when Leif Ericson and his hardy oarsmen sailed the seas, even to America, several centuries before Columbus was born. Prof. W. H. Schofield of Harvard university will head an expedition to Iceland this year and hopes to find much of interest connected with the ancient myths and legends.

New Schemes.

You have doubtless heard of traveling men, agents, etc., working the city thoroughly for trade, but the record was broken yesterday morning by some of the members of Jno. Beard's Bible class. It had become a serious question at why so many of the old members were laying out from Sunday to Sunday, so they secured a large dray wagon, furnished gratis by the Couch-Chestnut Drayage Co., had some of the members phone ahead telling them to be on the spot, that there was a wagon on the road for them. The wagon was decorated with the class colors by Mrs. W. M. Wilson and Mrs. W. F. Chambers. The city was worked thoroughly till they had a total of twenty-two. They all enjoyed it and no winterset was taken.

masses of his party. He dare not do otherwise."

Indorses Platform and Constitution.

Mr. Cruce gave his indorsement to the state democratic platform adopted by the Oklahoma City convention, contrasting it with the republican platform adopted prior to the state primary election by the Guthrie Convention. An indorsement is given the state constitution adopted by the people of Oklahoma at the election three years ago today. Mr. Cruce says: "The democratic platform, like our constitution, was written by no man, nor any chosen few, but it was written prior to the assembling of the state convention in the hearts and consciences of 150,000 of Oklahoma's best citizens, and they will see to it that good government is the portion of the people of Oklahoma, by electing to office the men who stand upon that platform, and who are pledged to carry out its provisions."

As to the Constitution, the speaker said in part: "Its most inveterate foes, as they have studied the tendencies of the times have come to appreciate its worth, until today we see ex-President Roosevelt, who three years ago said his opinion of our constitution would not look well in print, indorsing practically every principle in it. The cause for this popularity is easily discovered. It more thoroughly than any other constitution, embodies fundamental democratic principles, and recognizes the primal truth, that the more power given into the hands of the people, the more secure will be free government among the people. What has the republican platform to say in commendation of this splendid charter of the people's rights? You search in vain for a single sentence. The last utterance of the republican party upon this question was contained in the platform of that party adopted in Tulsa Aug. 2, 1907, in which the constitution is denounced, and the platform by implication advises the people to reject the proffered boon of statehood, vote down the constitution, and remain under Territorial misrule."

Banking Law.

"The democratic party has given to the people of Oklahoma the best state banking law that has ever yet been enacted. After practically three years of severe trial the law stands vindicated before the world. During these three years not one dollar has ever been lost by any depositor in any state bank in Oklahoma. In other states banks, both state and national, have failed, sweeping hundreds of men into bankruptcy and financial ruin, and entailing hardship and privation upon innocent depositors, and all because the nation and the states have not properly safeguarded depositors.

"The man who deposits his money in a bank, thus aiding the easy and successful operation of the business affairs of a state and nation, is certainly entitled to the highest consideration. The fortunes that have been swept away, the heartaches and privations that have been endured, the millions of dollars that have been sacrificed and lost by bank failures are sad impeachments of the statesmanship and business ability displayed in dealing with the banking laws by this government. With the experience of more than 100 years stretching behind to warn and guide us, our banking system should be made so stable and secure that loss to depositors should be unknown, and financial panic a matter of complete history. In dealing with this subject the republican party has shown utter lack of statesmanship and business ability to properly handle it. Under the operation of the laws passed by that party the tendency for years has been toward the concentration of the banking affairs of the Nation in the hands of a favored few, which if not speedily checked, will inevitably result in a banking combination or trust more hurtful to the legitimate commercial interests of the nation than all other trusts combined.

Honest Elections.

"All the honest voters are to be found in no party. There are some dishonest men to be found in every party. The recent disclosures in Oklahoma City, brought to light by the recount in the primary election, have sent a thrill of indignation throughout the state. But these disclosures have justified the statement I have made that there are dishonest men in every party, for the frauds attempted to be perpetrated can be charged to no single party. In each of the ten precincts where these frauds prevailed there were two republican counters and two democratic counters, so that whatever occurred is equally chargeable to democrats and republicans. I do not think that it is possible to safeguard the ballot too sacredly. Government by the people is impossible where the election crook has sway, and there is only one adequate way to deal with the man who steals an election, and that is to put him in the penitentiary. I want, however, to go record as stating that the great body who have acted and are now acting as election officers in this state are honest, and honestly discharging their obligations to the people. In this state there are 2,237 election precincts. Of these only ten have been found where frauds have occurred—less than one-half of 1 per cent. I submit that it is not just, fair or right to make wholesale condemnation of the election officers of this state, as the republican leaders and their candidate for governor are doing, and thus cast aspersions upon thousands of honest men merely for political advantage. If any party can not triumph without resorting to such debasing methods, I prefer that it suffer defeat. Any victory that is purchased by the sacrifice of the reputation of a single honest man, be he ever so humble and obscure, is too dearly won. And the effort of the republican leaders and their candidate for governor to win this election by breaking down the good name and honor of honest officials, because of the acts of a few officials will meet with well deserved condemnation at the polls in November. If it be true, as charged, that election crooks can only be punished by fine and imprisonment in the county jail, I am in favor of amending the law so as to make such conduct a penitentiary offense."

What the Party Has Done.

"I promised the people of Oklahoma if nominated for the office of governor I would make no defensive campaign, but that I would wage an aggressive one. This promise I expect to fulfill, and I assert:

"1. That the democratic party has given to the people of Oklahoma the best state constitution in existence.

"2. That we have given to Oklahoma the only banking law ever enacted in this republic under the operation of which no depositor has ever lost a dollar.

"3. That we have enacted laws separating the negro race from the other races in Oklahoma, in travel and in schools, to the mutual benefit of all races.

"4. That we established fair and equitable freight and passenger rates in this state, saving to our people millions of dollars in freights that had formerly been unjustly exacted from them by the railroads.

"5. That we have enacted and enforced laws upon taxation that makes the burdens of taxation bear uniformly and fair upon all, and have by the practice of rigid economy made the tax rate in Oklahoma, for state purposes, lower than in any other state of equal size and population in the union.

"6. That we have established as good public school system as is to be found anywhere, and have brought free education within the reach of every boy and girl in Oklahoma.

"7. That we have enacted laws for the development of agriculture and the protection of labor in keeping with the progressive spirit of the age, and far in advance of similar laws in other states.

"8. We have performed and completed the difficult task of organizing two Territories with different laws, different ideals and different conditions into one harmonious state."

Will Be Governor in Fact.

"One matter I want to set at rest for all time to come. When I am elected Governor of Oklahoma I want it thoroughly understood that Lee Cruce will be governor. No man nor set of men shall be permitted to dictate to me what I shall do, or what I must refrain from doing. I had rather be the doorkeeper in the executive mansion than to be clothed with the title of governor and have to submit myself to the control of any living man. No man has ever occupied an important official position who will be more unhampered in the discharge of his official duties than I will be. I have procured my nomination and will win my final election without having made a single promise to any man, further than the promise faithfully to serve the people of Oklahoma. Many men have come to me since my nomination, applying for appointive positions. I have given this answer to all: 'Under no circumstances will I consider applications for appointment until after my election.'

"Another thing I want to make plain. I am a democrat standing upon a democratic platform, but as governor of Oklahoma, I will be governor of all the people of the state. I shall not attempt to use the office in the interest of any political party. It will be my one ambition to give to the people of the state a creditable administration of public affairs, an administration of public witness the greatest possible degree of growth and development in the state and the unequalled happiness and prosperity of the people. In this work I invite the help and counsel of every man in the state who really desires righteous government."
